Red Cross Delivers Ongoing Aid to Hurricane Ida Survivors

In the months since Hurricane Ida's landfall, dedicated American Red Cross volunteers and employees have worked tirelessly to bring hope to devastated families. From the Gulf Coast to the Northeast, they provided safe shelter, warm meals, relief supplies and emotional support to help survivors get back on their feet. Thanks to generous donors, we have also opened more than 13,300 cases to deliver vital recovery assistance. In the weeks and months ahead, the Red Cross will remain by the sides of heartbroken residents as they continue to pick up the pieces and rebuild their lives.
